Naturalization Treaty with Bavaria.

The treaty between the United States and Bavaria is officially proclaimed. It is provided that the citizens who have become, or shall besome naturalized citizens of the United States of America, and shall have resided uninterruptedly within the United States for five years, shall hald by Bavaria to be American citizens, and be treated as such Reciprocally, citizens of the quire of treated as such reciprosally, citizens of the United States who have become, or shall become naturalised chizens of Bavarla, and abail have resided uninterruptedly within Bavarla five years, shall be held by the United States as citisons, and be treated as such.

The declaration of an intention to become a citizen of one or the other country has not for either the effect of naturalization

A naturalized citizen of the one party on his return to the territory of the other party remains liable to trial and publishment; for an action pub ishable by the laws of his original country, and committed before his emigration, saving siways the limitation established by the laws of his original country, or any other remission of lie The convention for the mutual delivery of criminals and fugitives from justice in certain cases, concluded between the United States on the one part and Bararia on the other part, the 12th day of September, 1863, remains in force without change

Such return most include all the states. all the spirits owned or hold by the par making the same in the district. Any person owning or having in his possession such spirite ind refusing to make such return will forfeit the eams and all distriked spirits found after De centhol t, 1568, in any cash or prelage, contain ing more than five grillous, without having ther on the marks and slamps required by the set of fult 20, 1808, will be forfeited Naturalization.

One of the best and most practical suggestion set made for the prevention of naturalization fruids is that proposed by the New York I ten eng Post, to the effect that Congress enact that a foreigner shall be entitled to naturalization in four instead of, as now, five years, but that naturalization paper shall not entitle the person to vote at any election until a year after its issue By this means the time of trial would not be ngthened, the slien would become entitled to vote just as soon as now, and the law, by obli gating him to apply for and receive his papers of citizenship a year beforehand, would practically put an end to fraud, and probably remove all suspicion from the public mind Then not only would the courts be relieved from undue pres sure and suspicion, but their records would fur nish a registry of naturalized voters, which could be copied by the agents of both parties long be fore election, thus enabling carb to detect any attempt of its opponents to introduce fliegal votes. Thus our elections would be purer and the people would believe in them more fully
